HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1890.

While writing the other day about the military strength of China, we said that 'to make the country strong' there was something more required than railways. Honesty is wanted. With corrupt officials and il-paid soldiers the country will become a prey to the first powerful invader, however many Armstrong or Krupp guns are bought. And without honesty, not only will China remain weak but she must also remain poor. To the casual observer it does seem strange that a Government that exercises sway over 300 million people, inhabiting a country that (taking into account only China Proper) is seven times as large as France, and with a soil almost as rich —should only be able to raise a revenue equal to that raised by the smaller states of Europe. But when one looks at the vast network of corruption spread over the land from the gates of Peking to the remotest hamlet, a ready explanation of China's poverty is obtained. The nearest parallel to history that we can find is the fiscal system of the Roman Empire in its most degenerate days. Living amidst corruption, which has become almost the natural order of things, the high authorities at Peking are slow to recognize the ruin that is wrought by the dishonesty of their servants. Occasionally they are roused to action, and some provincial straps and his minions are called to book, but no radical change is made in the system. The 'squeaking' is done by new hands; that is all. Of recent years there have indeed been some signs of improvement. Steamers and telegraphs have made the power of the Central Government more quickly and perhaps more effectively felt.
And the railway Boards at Peking, having had before their eyes the example of one large department conducted on the basis of honesty, have come to appreciate at least the material benefits derived therefrom.
Since the young Emperor assumed the reins of power, he has followed edict denouncing irregularity and threatening the corrupt with punishment. Probably the most of them had little real effect, as the Chinese mandarins from the top to the bottom of the tree have come to regard the high-sounding injunction to honest dealing contained in proclamations as quite consistent with the vilest venality in practice. But the Central Government, if it is really in earnest, can make its authority felt, at any rate for a time, for the provincial governors, however great their local power, can be dismissed with a stroke of the pen and are ready to go to Peking at a moment's notice, even to be punished. The recent circular sent by the Grand Council of State to all the Viceroy and Civil and Military Governors throughout the empire shows that in the matter of the taxing of natives opium the Government is

A RAMBLE THROUGH SOUTHERN FORMOSA.—By Mr. G. TAYLOR.

best sketches of Formosan life yet written.
A few roughly-executed Woodcuts are

CRAWFORD & Co.'s, and Messrs. KELLY & WATSON, LIMITED, Hongkong; also Mr. N.

THE CHINESE MAIL

This paper is now issued every day.
The subscription is fixed at Five Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Eleven Dollars Porto Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The proprietors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan, from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a large and over-increasing circulation. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tender—is almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest, while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners.
Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.

Subscription orders for the above may be sent to
GEO. MURRAY BAIN,
China Mail Office.
